

In the three years since the State Highway Commission has functioned as an agency entirely independent of the governor and the legislature, through the Mack-Blackwell constitutional amendment, the unpaved mileage in Arkansas' secondary road system has been reduced from 4,000 to 2,000.

And Highway Director Herbert Eldridge, who made that statement yesterday, went on to say that surfacing of most of the rest of the system is now under contract.

We used to think gravel roads were wonderful when they made travel possible in any sort of weather. Now we are escaping from the discomfort of dust and rough-riding with the new black-top surfacing.

And what is now happening on state highways will eventually come to county roads also — and, in fact, is already beginning. Gravel will be replaced with pavement, perhaps not as stout as the state is able to build but still a dust-proof surface.

Years ago The Star used to slam the county judges and their association for digging "turnback" money out of the State Highway Department — but we had good reason for doing so. The state highways then had insufficient money as it was and the counties were bleeding off millions to be thrown away on political dirt roads — millions that were washed away with each succeeding rain.

Today most counties have good local gravel roads. The people demand permanent works for their money. And the blacktop roads, with improved travel quality and lower maintenance costs, are just a matter of time for the counties.

Arkansas was late in getting around to a non-political state highway system — with revenues and personnel protected against the ravages of political campaigns — but we did finally achieve it and are now enjoying the benefits.

It is a sad commentary on the quality of democratic government and the intelligence of the Arkansas public that what we have achieved with highways we have been unable to do for the public schools.

Money and positions allocated for good roads are required to be used for that purpose.

But money voted for the public schools is almost immediately subdivided for non-school purposes — and the top state command of the public school system blows hot and cold with each succeeding state political administration.

Just the other day the Arkansas Education Association announced it would back a proposed constitutional amendment to remove the state school commission members from political interference — but made no provision to guarantee the schools' revenue in a similar manner. We attacked the AEA for an egotistical and stupid blunder. Now it appears they may drop the matter.

What Arkansas needs is an omnibus constitutional amendment to freeze school revenues to all school purposes.

It will take a constitutional amendment for sure — in a state where assemblymen are paid only $1,200 for a two-year term it's idiotic to expect the legislature to stand firm for the rights of the public school system against the raids of hungry politicians.

In lieu of a constitutional amendment the schools will be better off to trust to local taxation and administration by county officials — whose pay and responsibility and performance are immeasurably better than the legislature's.

Anti-Racing Group Collects Petitions

Hempstead County churches have been urged by Guy Basye of Hope, county chairman for the Arkansas Anti-Racing Council, to send in their petitions to the Little Rock office of the council at once.

Hempstead County's quota in the statewide signature campaign is 1,402. The petitions are to refer an amendment banning racing in Arkansas to the voters on the November ballot.

Mr. Basye revealed that the state total has topped the 22,000 mark. State council officials are hoping to secure 50,000 signatures before the deadline for filing petitions.

Columbia County was the first in the state to reach its county goal.

Argentine Seeks Leaders of Rebellion

By BRUCE HENDERSON

BUNOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Authorities pushed a dogged hunt today for a second top leader of last weekend's rebellion after seizing and speedily executing his chief in the uprising.

Still sought was Gen. Raul Tanco, an army leader in the regime of ousted President Juan Peron. Executed by a firing squad last night was Gen. Juan Jose Valle, who had hoped to become president if the revolt succeeded.

An army spokesman said police were in hot pursuit to Tanco but gave no details. The government earlier asserted Tanco had been selected to take over as vice president under Valle.

Also cut down by a firing squad in the latest executions was Juan Alberto Abalde, an army reserve lieutenant who was second in command of the uprising within the 7th Infantry Regiment at La Plata.

State GOPs Pick Their Candidates

By TOM DYCARD

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ben C. Henley of Harrison and Roy Mitchell of Hot Springs, leaders of the Republican Party in Arkansas, will run at the top of the GOP ticket in the November general election.

Henley, chairman of the state Republican Central Committee, was nominated or U. S. senator by the GOP biennial state convention here yesterday. Mitchell, vice chairman of the Central Committee, was nominated for governor.

A platform approved by the convention touched on the racial integration controversy. "All American citizens are entitled to full, impartial enforcement of federal laws relating to their civil rights," said the plank on civil rights, and "is the primary responsibility of each state to control its own domestic institutions." It added that the federal government "should take supplemental action within its constitutional jurisdiction to oppose discrimination against race, religion or national origin."

Ike Continues to Show Rapid Improvement

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower took up a considerable amount of official work today although suffering discomfort in the wake of his emergency operation.

Eisenhower held a 25-minute meeting with key White House staff members, signed 27 bills and other official documents. He also arranged to meet tomorrow in his Walter Reed Hospital room with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

An aide said Eisenhower "looked and sounded quite chipper" and did some personal dictating to his secretary, Mrs. Ann Whitman.

"We did a lot of work this morning," White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said.

The 8 a.m. medical report said the President spent a fairly comfortable night and that his blood pressure and other physical symptoms were about what could be expected at this stage of recovery from an intestinal operation such as he underwent Saturday.

The bills signed ranged from a $424,624,100 appropriation for the Interior Department to private relief bills and other minor measures such as the transfer of a few acres of land in Muskogee, Okla.

Eisenhower sent Congress a long list of nominations in the Public Health Service, Coast Guard and Marine Corps.

The press secretary said no time limit has been set for Adenauer's visit but noted that the German leader, who will be accompanied by Secretary of State Dulles, is paying only a courtesy call.

Hagerty showed considerable irritation at reporters' detailed questions relating to Eisenhower's condition.

"Why the hell don't you wait until tomorrow" he demanded at one point, when asked how long Adenauer would remain with the President.

Eisenhower conferred personally with his chief aide, Sherman Adas; his special counsel, Gerald D. Morgan; and the White House staff secretary, Col. Andrew J. Goodpastor.

Still unresolved also is the question whether Eisenhower will be able to go through with his planned conversations July 7-10 with India's Prime Minister Nehru at a mountain retreat in Maryland. His doctors have said Eisenhower may leave the hospital by about June 23, and rest for another two to four weeks at any place of his choosing.

House Battle Over Housing in Prospect

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big House fight over public housing was in prospect today after the House Banking Committee approved a bill that goes far beyond the program President Eisenhower has requested.

The committee yesterday okayed a measure that would provide for 180,000 new public housing units, plus 30,000 units designated for elderly persons. These would be erected over a three-year span, starting Aug. 1.

Other sections of the general housing bill call for a three-billion-dollar increase in federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance authority, special credit and loan insurance features applying to housing for older persons, veterans and military personnel, broadened slum clearance aid to the states, and bigger home improvement loans.

The President asked Congress to authorize 35,000 public housing units a year for two years.

Heat Hurting Most of U. S.

By The Associated Press

Most of the nation continued to suffer in unseasonably hot and humid weather today.

Early morning temperatures were in the 70s and 80s from the plains states eastward today after readings of 90 and above yesterday. A cool front moved into the Northern Plains but little relief was expected east of the Mississippi River, where more hot and humid weather was forecast with scattered afternoon and evening thunderstorms.

Chicago had 97 yesterday, the hottest June 12 on record, there high temperatures included Fargo, N. D., 99, El Paso, Tex., 98, Milwaukee and Minneapolis, 95, Des Moines, Denver and Kansas City 94, Boston 91, Cleveland 90, Washington and Philadelphia 88, and New York 86.

Foreign Aid Request Gets Backers

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten Republican senators rallied today behind President Eisenhower's sick-bed plea for more foreign aid money, appealing to their colleagues to uphold what they called his "staunch leadership for peace."

They took their stand in a joint statement a few hours before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was scheduled to begin work behind closed doors on a House-passed $3,800,000,000 foreign aid bill. This measure is $1,044,000,000 smaller than Eisenhower asked for economic and military assistance to free nations.

Committee Chairman George (D-Ga.) led in a move aimed at increasing the house total by 500 millions. Senate sources said passage of this proposal would be "difficult, but possible."

With Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), a senior member of the committee, already committed to fight for restoration of at least part of the House cuts, the 10 other Republicans voiced this admonition:

"If we waver in our leadership, uncertainty and doubt among other nations can only lead to a drift that will endanger us all. Let us not throw away the best weapon we have against communism. This is the time above all to hold the staunch leadership for peace which the President represents for all the world."

GOPs Believe Ike Will Be Able to Run

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Republican senators said today they are not considering the possibility that President Eisenhower will change his mind about running again.

(Sen. Kefauver D-Ten), an aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he thinks the "Republicans will run the President if they can possibly do it."

Kefauver also said he regards as "wide open" the Democratic race and has no intention of quitting it because of his crushing defeat in the California primary by Adlai E. Stevenson.

"I don't think anybody has the nomination sewed up and I am going to continue my campaign to get it," Kefauver said. "I took the hard ones along with the easy ones in the primaries and California was a hard one for me. But I am encouraged by the reassurances I have had from my supporters since then. My delegates are all standing firmly behind me."

U. S. Rules Out Meet With Red Chinese

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials ruled out today any meeting between Secretary Dulles and Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai of Communist China until the Reds substantially change their behavior.

The State Department last night made clear the Red Chinese must first:

1. "Fulfill" their agreement of last Sept. 10 to permit 13 American prisoners in China to return home.

2. Make a "meaningful renunciation" of the use or threat of force in connection with its claims on Formosa, the home of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government.

The statement was issued after the Red Chinese regime had disclosed a proposal made at Geneva May 11. This called for a quick agreement on the general renunciation of force by the United States and Red China and for a Dulles-Chou meeting by July 11.

Witnesses testified before Municipal Judge Harper Harb that Forrester had fired at Reeves once and was advancing toward him with a rifle when Reeves fired. Reeves and his former wife had been involved in a dispute over custody of their children.

Tax-Fixing Trial Goes to the Jury

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The month-old tax-fixing trial of two former Truman administration officials went to the jury today with a federal judge's instructions that even though the government was depending on circumstantial evidence it could be "as positive and conclusive as direct evidence."

The jury of eight men and four women immediately began deliberating the fate of Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle after the instructions from U. S. District Judge Ruben M. Hulien.

Connelly, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and Caudle, who headed the Justice Department's Tax Division, are charged with conspiring to fix the income tax case of Irving Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer.

In making his charge to the jury, Judge Hulien cautioned it that an indictment is an accusation only and that the guilt of defendant must be proved "beyond all reasonable doubt." He emphasized the distinction between "reasonable doubt" and "possible doubt."

Would Use Local Plant Only on a Standby Basis

Mayor Ole Olsen called Hope City Council to a meeting here this morning with representatives of Arkansas Power and Light Company for discussion of the possibility of the City buying its power from the larger firm.

AP&L representatives were Pete Lindsey, Dave Bryan, manager of the Company's Gordon system and Ish Beam, division manager of Little Rock.

Councilmen are reluctant to admit that a request by certain groups of workers in the municipal power plant for union recognition had anything to do with calling on AP&L for power.

Nevertheless, the Council voted to contact AP&L about purchase of outside power the same night that Mayor Ole Olsen told the group that he had been approached by an alleged employee committee and Texarkana, Texas union officials about the matter of unionizing the local plant.

The council took no action on the matter.

At this morning's meeting Councilmen were told that AP&L could and would furnish power to the city on a 10-year contract basis. In order to serve the city AP&L would have to spend an estimated $200,000 to build six miles of line and a sub station.

To offset this expenditure the City was told that any contract would have to be on a ten-year basis with a minimum and maximum clause. However, the City was assured that additional power would be available as the city needed.

It has been established previously that the city actually could purchase outside power cheaper than it can be produced, or has been produced, in the Hope plant.

Purchase of outside power would mean that the city plant would be kept only on a standby basis. The city would continue to handle distribution but the plant would be closed down.

Kiwanians Are Told Value of Theaters

The motion picture industry locally and elsewhere, creates a traffic pattern that can mean an increased merchandising market for every downtown business, Ray C. Colvin, member of the National Board of Directors of the Council of Motion Pictures, told Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Hotel Barlow.

Speaking on the theme, "What the Movie Theater means to Your Community," Mr. Colvin stressed the point that movies attract crowds and wherever there are crowds, a traffic pattern is created.

"People come from all directions to the theater. They pass your place of business. If your windows are lighted, decorated, your merchandise properly displayed you will benefit by this traffic pattern through increased sales of your product. This has been proven in survey after survey," Mr. Colvin pointed out.

A veteran of 54 years in show business and the motion picture industry, Mr. Colvin declared: "Show me a town without a motion picture theater, and I will show you a dead town — but show me a town with the theater and I will show you a better town for having that theater."

Guests of the club were: M. D. Herschberger, Cleveland, Ohio and Bobby Gallion of Hope.

A correspondent writes to ask whether we agree with Henry David Thoreau's observation that most men lead lives of "quiet desperation."

No. Indeed, Thoreau made his remark in the era of strong silent men. Times have changed. Most men today insist on leading lives of quite noisy desperation. A man with a despair now likes to go to a cocktail party and brag out loud about it.

Our nomination for the heroine of 1956 to date is a gay, 106-year-old lady named Mrs. Tirza Gonzalez, of El Paso, Tex.

Mrs. Gonzalez, who can sew all day and doesn't need glasses, likes a hip of wine before breakfast. Later in the afternoon she prefers something "that rasps the throat, like tequila." She also smokes three packs of cigarettes a day.

Some blues notes may look askance at Mrs. Gonzalez, who has outlived five of her seven children, and insists her bad habits will surely shorten her life.

But at 106 a girl certainly can afford to gamble a bit, and all we'd like to know is what brand of tequila she recommends and whether she thinks filtered cigarettes are better than the ordinary kind.

MANILA, P.I. (UP)—Police said today they may have broken a large gem smuggling syndicate involving U.S. Navy personnel.

The break in the case came with the arrest last night of a Chinese businessman carrying $50,000 worth of assorted jewelry. Police said it had been smuggled on a U.S. Navy plane from Hong Kong.

PARIS, (UP)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said in a lecture last night France "insists that American troops remain in Europe as a safeguard against a third world war."

The Socialist minister, who often has criticized American foreign policy, said here might not have been any world wars if the United States had warned the Germans in 1914 and again in 1939 that they eventually would fight.

Hot Springs Prospector Found Alive

MOAB, Utah (U)—When a boat carrying two uranium prospectors capsized in the raging, muddy Colorado River, one of the men took off "over the rim" to the west.

The other, 43-year-old Charles L. Robinson of Hot Springs, Ark., elected to forklift along the river and eat berries to stay alive.

Robinson was rescued yesterday, exactly eight days after the mishap.

Instead of berries, he ate raw lizards and cactus, and he lost 42 pounds during his ordeal.

"Lizards taste a lot like sardines or tuna when a guy is good and hungry," he said as he recuperated in a Moab hospital.

Of his adventures, he commented: "This was a stupid, idiotic thing I was rescued alive only by a divine act of God."

"There is nothing heroic about going through there. Those rapids are fantastic. You can't imagine how hot, precipitous the cliffs are."

"You can feel your neck and wrists getting skinny. That stuff about living a month in the forest with a knife is bunk. Not in this country. The lizards are too highway underpass."

Eleven-year-old Marie Stanikunas had been sent to call her brother and sister home for supper. She saw them in the hole. Just then the earth moved.

Marie screamed and grabbed another sister, Dolores. The cascading sand swirled around her ankles and sucked off her shoes, but the two girls escaped.

A post office employee heard the screaming and arrived in time to pull out 9-year-old Anatole Bykov alive, but seriously injured.

Marie pulled a fire alarm box. Soon the pit was swarming with police and fire rescue workers. The six children were pulled out soon, but they could not be revived.

Frantic parents and relatives poured down from the surrounding tenements. A grandmother comforted Marie on the sidewalk above the hole.

She heard a wailing cry from the mother, Mrs. Theresa Stanikunas, as her children, Michael, 10, and Lorraine, 5, were uncovered.

"Don't look, don't look," the grandmother told Marie, turning her away. "Which one" she called down.

"Both," came back the cry and the family burst into wild sobbing.

Another mother, in her frenzy of grief, beat her head against a wooden fence.

The other dead children were John William McKenzie, 9; John T. Kotov, 7; Anna Ortiz, 8; and Louis Nititi, 6.

Police Flush Safecrackers, One Man Dead

LITTLE ROCK (U)—One man is dead and two others are in custody after police early today flushed a pair of would-be safe-crackers from a service station.

Detective Lt. Bill Mack said Robert Jenkins, about 22, of Little Rock was shot and killed as he fled from the service station in a hail of police bullets.

Arrested were Paul Price, about 23, and Joe Ivy, about 30, both of Little Rock.

Mack said that at least seven shots were fired at Jenkins and Ivy when they fled from the station and refused to stop running at a police command to halt. Ivy surrendered after Jenkins was hit.

Ivy was arrested about a half block away where he was sitting in a car, apparently as a lookout, Mack said.

Inside the service station, Robinson declared he is going straight home to Hot Springs, Ark., "where there are trees and water. I've had enough of the Colorado."

Robinson's companion Bryan Waelder, 52, of Long Beach, Calif., was rescued last Friday after walking overland almost 1 mile through the desert toward Hanksville, Utah.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Wells of Hanksville, known as Utah's "Flying Bishop," spotted Waelder from the air and rescued him.

Several search parties continued the hunt for Robinson.

officers found a safe partially ripped open. Mack, who said the thieves used some of their own tools and other tools they found in the station, declined to say how much money was in the safe.

About eight policemen surrounded the service station some four minutes after an alarm sounded at the Little Rock Air Force Base.

Sgt. Francis J. Eckert, who lived near the service station, called police headquarters. Eckert said he heard glass breaking.

Mack said the two men routed from the station had covered their hands with their socks apparently trying to keep from leaving fingerprints.

Jenkins, struck by one bullet, was pronounced dead on arrival at a Little Rock hospital.

Coroner Howard Dishong said he would view the body today.

Bank Holdup Nets Robber $65,000

SOUTHPORT, Ind., (UP)—A bandit held a bank president and his wife prisoner for seven hours today and escaped with an estimated $65,000 in Indiana's biggest bank holdup in 28 years.

The money was taken from the Southport State bank in this suburb of Indianapolis in southern Marion county.

Victims of the holdup were John A. Whalen, president of the bank, and his wife. They were held at gunpoint in their home from about 2 a.m. by a lone gunman and wore a stocking pulled over his head.

According to state police records, it was the biggest Indiana bank holdup since May 8, 1928, when an Angola bank was robbed of $86,000.

The bandit entered the Whalen home and brandished a nickel-plated revolver.

Hours later, the man forced them to go to the bank with him. He waited until a timing mechanism opened the vault. He took all the money he could find and escaped.

LONG MIDDLE NAME

HONOLULU, (UP)—When their third son was born Monday on the birthday of Hawaii's great warrior king, Kaheameha I, attorney David Trask and his wife decided on a "real Hawaiian" middle name.

The middle name is Keahikelaikolalahanaokamehameha.

The constitution of the Irish Free State was adopted on December 11, 1922.

(All prices f.o.b. far).

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, (U)—Firm prices ruled for grains on the Board of Trade today even though best gains were not maintained through to the close.

Reports more new crop wheat was being put into storage spurred demand for that grain. Hot, dry weather supported oats, new crop corn and new crop soybeans.

Wheat closed 1/2-1 higher, July $2.08 1/4-3/4, corn 3/4 higher, July $1.53 1/4-3/4, oats 1/2 higher, July 67 1/2, rye 1/2-2 1/4 higher, July $1.26 1/2, soybeans 1/4 lower to 2 1/4 higher, July $3.16 1/2-3/4.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK (U)—The stock market extended its recovery today to three straight sessions.

Prices in the early afternoon were up around 2 points at the best and losses went to a point.

Most major divisions were definitely higher including the steels, aircrafts, chemicals, railroads, and oils. Motors were unchanged to higher.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (U)—Cotton futures were lower today as liquidation met only light scale down trade buying and short covering.

Old crop July was under moderate pressure of New Orleans and commission house selling, while distant October was also lower as small offerings there met an absence of support.

Uncertainty among traders as to what prices the C.C.C. will accept for export cotton stimulated some selling. The recent minimum on C.C.C. sales was 27.50 cents a pound, basis middling 15-16 inch, while under an earlier export program this year the minimum was two cents a pound lower than that.

Late afternoon prices were 20 cents to $1 a bale lower than the previous close, July 34.32, October 32.45 and December 32.53.

TURNABOUT

CHICAGO, (UP)—Judge Elmer H. Holmgren ordered the jurors in a murder trial locked up and let the defendants go home last night.

Holmgren said he had no choice. Defendants John La Place, 20, and Paul Pelletier Jr., 21, already had been released on bond, but the judge figured he had to keep the jurors locked up to insure a fair verdict.

Six Children Smother in N. Y. Cave-in

By Goffrey Gould

NEW YORK (U)—With a whispering rush, a wall of sandy earth swept down on a group of children playing in a Brooklyn excavation last night. Six of them—two girls and four boys—were smothered and crushed to death.

Police and the Brooklyn district attorney began an investigation to determine if negligence was involved.

It could not be determined immediately whether a watchman had been posted to keep neighborhood children out of the block-square excavation.

It was suppertime in the teeming Williamsburg section, a district of aging, closely packed tenements.

Nine youngsters apparently were digging a tunnel in the soft sand at the foot of the 30-foot wall of the excavation, which was for a

The occasion marked the couple's fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. Carlton and the former Eva E. Dale were wed June 12, 1906 in Prentiss, Mississippi. They have resided in Hope since January, 1914.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Carlton were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Yontz, M-Sgt. Dale Carlton and Mr. and Mrs. Cary Carlton. The honoree chose for this special occasion an afternoon dress of white chintilly lace with rhinestone trim. Mrs. Yontz's gown was yellow fortisan with front panels of lace. Mrs. Cary Carlton wore yellow linen with rhinestone trim. Each pinned a yellow rosebud corsage at her shoulder.

Mrs. B. B. McPherson introduced the guests to the receiving line.

The serving table was covered with white nylon net over yellow taffeta, the net cascaded on the sides of the table and were caught with sprays of yellow rosebuds and greenery. In the center of the table was an arrangement of yellow nylon net in a three-tiered crystal container. Two lighted candles bearing the inscription "50th Anniversary" in gold at the front of the table. A gold vase shaped like two wedding bells also held yellow roses. Sherbet, party cakes nuts and mints carrying out the color scheme of gold and white were served by Mrs. M. M. McClellan, Mrs. W. A. Williams, Mrs. A. D. Brannan and Mrs. Hamilton Orton of Ashdown. Several hundred friends of the Carlton families called during the appointed hours.

The honored couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, cards, letters and telegrams attesting the love of the many friends of "The Carltons."

DOROTHY DIX

Pretty Late to Reform! Wise Father

Dear Dorothy Dix: Our marriage of three years is beginning to fray around the edges. As I haven't held a steady job, my wife has worked to pay most of the rent and food. She works in an office with a crowd of men and women. I'm very jealous of her and, while I've kept it under control most of the time, recently it got the better of me. My wife is very good, a fine bookkeeper, considerate, and she has kept us out of debt. She even manages to buy herself nice clothes. I know I haven't been much of a husband to her; I never took her out during these three years, though I went out quite a bit with the "boys." I never showed her much consideration, and did do quite a bit of nagging.

Now my wife has come under the influence of a girl friend who is no good. She is advising my wife to get an annulment or divorce. Her own marriage hasn't been too happy; she and her husband go their separate ways. Because of her own marital failure, she's trying to make our marriage flop.

Now that I realize my mistakes, I'm sure I would be a better husband and that our life together would be happier. Can you suggest some arguments I can present to my wife as proof that I have changed?

DANNY
Dear Danny: Your letter was just a bit shorter than "Gone With the Wind," but I think I have managed to extract the gist of it. To wit: after three years your wife got sick and tired being breadwinner, housekeeper, cook and companion, and read a declaration of independence.

While admitting some of your faults, you boldly put the brunt of your troubles onto a girl friend, who may or may not have been sincerely interested in your wife's problems. At least, however, she woke your spouse up to the fact that she was getting a bad deal. Now you come up with a fine tale of contrition and an imposing collection of promises.

Spoken or written promises aren't worth a nickel. Action is what counts. Only by changing your selfish, thoughtless habits can you convince your wife — or anyone else — that your intentions are good. What you need more than anything else is to grow up a bit.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Though I'm only 13½, father permits me to have a boy friend. We're allowed to go to the show on Saturday night but father drives us there and picks us up when the show is over. He thinks this arrangement is o. k., but mother objects. Your advice will not cause any argument between my parents, so lighted yellow tapers. The buffet was graced with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and white gardenias. Frosted punch and cookies were served by Mrs. S. A. Whitlow assisted by the hostesses.

Miss Thrash chose for the occasion a lovely printed princess style cotton satin frock a corsage of blue carnations and her mother, Mrs. H. E. Thrash wore a blue linen sheath dress trimmed in white summer beads. All members of the house party wore gardenia corsages.

Many lovely gifts were received by the bride-elect and the hostesses presented her with a gift of sterling.

please don't hesitate to say whether or not I should go around with the boy.
SUSAN
Dear Susan: You have a very wise and kind father. Mother, I guess, can't believe her little girl is growing up, but father takes the news in stride. A switch on the usual set-up.
I think Dad has hit on a perfect solution for early dating, and I hope you'll always be worthy of the trust he places in you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Is it proper to have a boy and a girl usher at a church wedding?
LIBBY
Dear Libby: It doesn't seem possible that in this day and age one could be surprised at woman's invasion of any field, but here it is — I'm surprised!
It would be in better taste to keep the ushers male. Let the girl serve the bride. I've never heard of a female usher.

Ingrid Bergman Is Making a New Movie

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ingrid Bergman is now working for an American film company for the first time in seven years. It's probable she will be making more movies or Hollywood studios in the future.

Twentieth Century - Fox is the first to break the hands-off policy that studios here have followed since the Swedish actress left for Europe and the resultant headlines. She parted with her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, and bore a child by her present mate, Director Roberto Rosellini. She is being starred with Helen Hayes and Melvyn Brynner in "Anastasia," which is being made in Europe. Buddy Adler, who is personally producing "Anastasia," had no comment on the question of the acceptance of Miss Bergman by American audiences. But obviously the studio feels confident in the capacity of Americans to forgive and forget. Otherwise it wouldn't undertake such a costly project. Rights to the stage play cost a half-million and the movie doubtless will run over three million.

Adler, just returned from helping to get the film started, was high in his praise of Miss Bergman. "I haven't worked with any performer in years who has been as cooperative," he remarked in his spacious office. "If anything, she looks even younger than when she was here. She has the same wonderful skin with the ruddy glow of health. I know she is going to do a great job."

"Anastasia" is the story of three Russian exiles who plot to establish a girl as the surviving daughter of the murdered Czar. Thus they could collect the millions the Czar had deposited outside Russia. The crux of the campaign is to convince the Czar's mother that the girl is really her granddaughter Anastasia. "We've changed the story quite a bit," said Adler. "Instead of taking place in Berlin, it will be filmed in London, Paris and Copenhagen. The principal part of the story will be in Paris, which is entirely logical since there were actually more Russian refugees there than in Berlin."

No attempt is being made to Russinize Miss Bergman's Swedish accent. Adler said. But Miss Hayes, whose New York home is near a Russian colony, is learning an accent.
Miss Hayes is reported to be bearing up well after the recent death of her husband, Charles MacArthur. Friends feel work is the best remedy for her grief.

Probes on TV Leave Public Indifferent

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The general public apathy toward the current series of federal investigations of the television industry is a matter of some surprise.

Conversations with numerous viewers reveal that they understand little of what's going on — and many say they don't care. The fact is that in the long run no one will be more deeply affected by the investigations than individual television viewers.

The most important issue is the extent of control over programming exercised by the chief TV networks. Some say a small group of persons should not be able to decide what the country at large in general sees. Others maintain that the steadily rising standards of TV programs would be destroyed if the networks' wings were clipped.

There is one phrase which you, an individual viewer, would be wise to understand as the key to the situation. That is, "option time."

When your local station joined a network it agreed that the network would have "first option" to show its programs over the station during fixed hours of the viewing day and evening. The remainder of the viewing hours are known as "local time," in which the station does its own programming — live shows or films.

Some opponents of the network would cut or abolish option time. This would vest control of programming with the local station. In option time the network and the station share the revenue. But the station retains the full revenue in "local time" when it sells a program to a sponsor.

The situation has been sharpened recently by the release of huge backlogs of old Hollywood motion picture films which can be sponsored by local advertisers.

It's profitable to both the stations and the movie package firms. In the case of many local stations less option time doubtless would mean more Hollywood movies shown.

The networks say, on the other hand, that option time is the cornerstone on which TV programming as we know it has been built. Under commercial TV many of the best programs on the air now are sponsored by advertisers who are guaranteed that a certain number of stations throughout the country will show the pro-

Ft. Smith Man to Head Young GOP

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Bill Spicer of Fort Smith was elected chairman of the Young Republicans of Arkansas today at the state GOP convention underway in Little Rock.

He replaces another Fort Smith man, Jack W. T. Allen.

Other officers are Mrs. John Paul Arrens, Little Rock, vice chairman; Mrs. Ellen Hogan, Little Rock, secretary; Miss Faye Marie Taylor, Van Buren, assistant secretary; Miss Janice Nutter, Conway, Treasurer; Miss Marion Smith, Little Rock, Young Republican national commit woman; and Dr. Wayne Biggs, Morrilton, Young Republican national committeeman.

Mrs. Bill Ritter of Fayetteville and Roland Ryan of Magazine were elected board members at large.

John Rand, an American, invented the collapsible metal tube in 1841.

gram. Take away the guarantee, say the networks, and sponsors will be interested only in those types of programs which they believe would be "popular." The present balance of television programming — which finds a place for excellent dramas and documentaries, as well as big name comedians and popular variety shows — will be thrown off.

There is great danger of there being some extreme result from the present controversy. There is danger of "either-or" rather than "both-and" conclusion. In television programming, as in everything else, a golden mean is possible. Certainly there are enough viewing hours to permit local stations to show the best in enlightened programming by the network — and the best in locally sponsored films.

Thought For The Day

I would not enter on my list of friends the man who needlessly sets foot upon a worm. — Cowper said it.

Culture And Good Manners
One's behavior in church or at any religious meeting must be respectful, whether one agrees with the doctrines set forth, or not. Do not attend religious gatherings that do not accord with your own ideas, and if you do, sit through them without comment while you are there. Each person is entitled to his own beliefs, and if you are an interloper behave yourself with regard to the doctrines of others.

Calendar Of Events
The Pastor, Rev. L. C. Washington, and the members of the Church of God in Christ, South Hope, will be hosts to the monthly uniform service tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Guest churches: Emmet, Hope No. 1, McNab and Prescott, Ark. The public is cordially invited to attend. Elder F. Davis, President.

The Missionary Society and the Pastor's Aid Club of Mt. Zion C. M. E. Church will sponsor the Union Singers, June 17, at 3 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Rev. I. M. Manning, Pastor.

Christian Benevolent Society To Meet
This is to remind all members of the Christian Benevolent Society that the regular meeting will be held Saturday, June 16, at 10:00 a. m., at which time all business of the society will be transacted. This is the time to pay your monthly dues.

The Annual service will be held Sunday, June 17. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. C. S. Stearns, Pastor of BeBe Memorial C. M. E. Church. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

Beauticians Sponsor Party
Beautician's Chapter No. 16 sponsored a "Club Party" at the home of Mrs. Leona McCall Friday night, June 8.

In the "Drawing," winners of pies were: Mrs. Bama West and Mrs. Lou Noble.

This party was a huge success. Thanks to our friends who co-operated so beautifully.

WEAVING TO AND FRO—An old soldier, 80-year-old Fred Simons, works at an embroidery frame following the opening of the "History in Embroidery" exhibition at the Royal Hospital in Chelsea, England. Simons, who served for 27 years as a gunner in the Royal Artillery, has already completed a knicker, or hassock, in commemoration of Alexander Reid, surgeon at Chelsea Hospital from 1711 to 1743.

CHAPTER XX

Lily Arnette's face was unnaturally pale and Frank knew she had glimpsed Yates. "Why don't you have faith in Frank, Doc?"

"Huh," Dr. La Tour grunted. "Faith is mighty dimsy and scarce in this world." He stamped out.

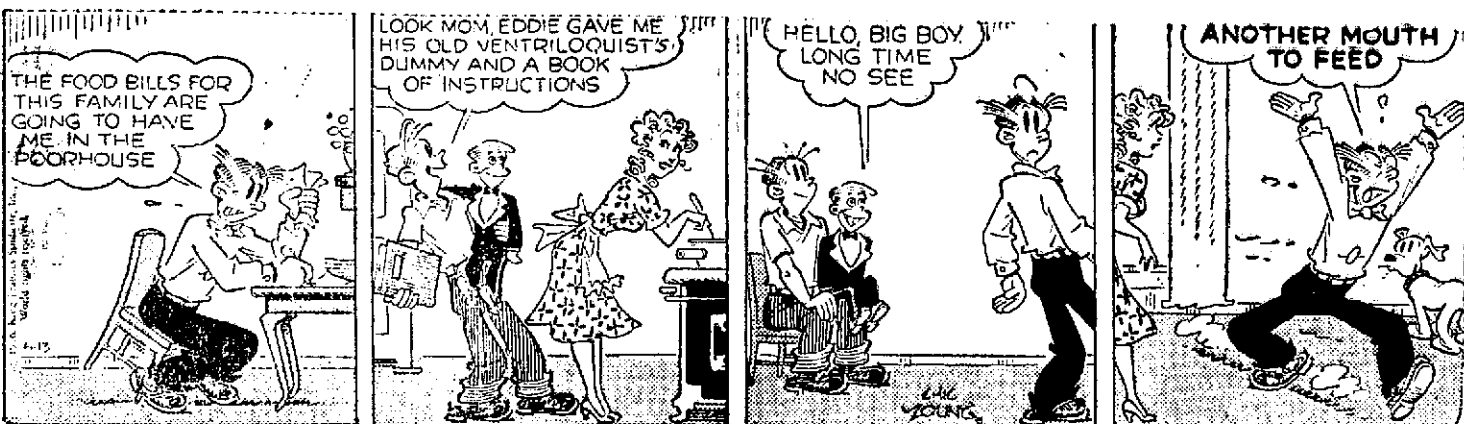

"It looks," Lily said softly, "as though you boys had been running a butcher shop."

Frank dropped his hand against Lily's arm and turned her away. The door closed on the blacksmith. The small room in which Frank found himself had heavy plush dr

Arcaro Passes Po Chance at Fabius

By TIM MORIARTY

NEW YORK (UP) — Because he didn't want "to hurt anybody's feelings," Eddie Arcaro today passed up a chance to ride Calumet Farm's Fabius in Saturday's $100,000 added Belmont Stakes.

Instead, "heady Eddie" will shoot for his seventh victory in the finals of the triple crown classics with C. V. Whitney's Jazz Age, his original choice.

The mount on Fabius became available last Saturday when Calumet's regular rider, Willie Harlick, drew a 10-day suspension at

Elvis Presley, Described as Desire Under Sideburns, Latest Heartthrob

3-Cadillac Man Seems to Be Here to Stay

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Elvis Presley was singing in Washington. As per usual with this latest swoon producer, he was rushed by auto-graph hunters immediately after his last number. But Presley's fans sometimes want more than just his name on a piece of paper.

A young woman of around 21 was in the forefront. She carried a baby cradled in one arm. With the other she reached up and grabbed Presley by the collar and started to pull.

"You must come home with me," she shrieked. "You MUST come home with me."

With Elvis Presley, sights like this are commonplace. He arouses in many women—from teen-agers to matrons—the strongest urge since Frank Sinatra reigned supreme. Presley is libido with a larynx, sex strumming a guitar, desire under the sideburns.

In a few short months, he's popped out of a nowhere that was a small following in Tennessee. He's run through several Cadillacs and hundreds of fancy shirts; he's the first pop singer to have his album sell so well it was listed among the single records; he's caused riots and editorials and money.

Pretty good for a man who thought that maybe he'd be an electrician. As a boy growing up in Mississippi and Tennessee he never thought about singing. His father was a house painter so Elvis figured perhaps he'd be an electrician and maybe work with his father on jobs. He's an only child; they've been close.

So close, in fact, that when a Mother's Day was coming up, Elvis went into a recording studio to make a record of one of his mother's favorite songs. The man who ran the studio, Sam Phillips, had a small record company called "Sun" and he overheard the boy in the booth and liked what he overheard. Phillips got Presley to make a record for him. It was the start.

Four records and $35,000 later, Presley was the property of RCA, who bought the contract from Phillips. Then came his tremendous hit, "Heartbreak Hotel," and suddenly every place he sang they had to call the cops. In Minneapolis, the promoter actually had a clause put in the contract that there had to be ten (10) policemen around every time the party of the second part opened his pearly mouth.

Presley, say students of his style, is a phenomenon of these times. He is a hillbilly singer with overtones of rhythm and blues. It's hard to define him, just as it's hard to understand what he's singing. RCA says his poor enunciation is a problem; he can sing clearer, but if he does, he loses some of his drive. They'd rather have the drive.

In person, he works himself up to such a pitch he often collapses after a show. He shakes and wiggles and jumps and bumps; it's like watching a strip-teaser and a malted milk machine at the same time.

Doctors who've examined him after these collapses say he's positively headed for a physical or mental breakdown. But he looks the picture of health. And he's gained ten pounds since fame found him, which is strange because his entire diet consists of pork chops, mashed potatoes and gravy. Even breakfast.

Presley's fame hasn't gone to his head—he's a modest, easy-to-handle performer—but it has gone to his pocketbook. He's fantastically extravagant. At the moment, he owns three Cadillacs—a pink and a yellow convertible and a sedan for business purposes.

"He's pretty hard on cars," says one of his friends. "Wrecked a few. And the girls keep carving their initials in the Caddys."

The girls also raise hob with the house he bought for his parents in Memphis. His father, now 39, is retired. The house keeps being stripped of fence posts, shrubs, porch steps, even paint peelings which are scraped off and presumably treasured by his adoring fans.

Besides cars, Presley spends much of his loot on clothes. He has some 48 shirts he hasn't worn yet stashed away at home. Late-ly, he's discovered jewelry and the jewelry peddlers have discovered him. he now owns a few diamond rings. One recent day, he impulsively bought an initialed ring and was so ashamed he wouldn't tell his manager how much it cost.

Poll Tax Deal Has Signatures

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State C. G. Hall yesterday certified that petitions to initiate a proposed constitutional amendment for abolition of the poll tax apparently have enough signatures.

The proposal, which would write into the state's constitution that no tax could be levied or the privilege of voting, needs 33,513 signatures of qualified electors to place it on the November general election ballot. The 33,513 represents 10 per cent of the total vote in the November, 1954, election for governor.

Although he is easy to handle —he doesn't smoke, drink or take dope, despite rumors to the contrary—he does have one troublesome habit. He disappears. Unless he is followed closely, he's quite likely to vanish. He can usually be found in the nearest western movie or shooting gallery or men's store or Cadillac showroom. But he is also prone to leave in the company of a girl. He is unmarried.

Despite his idiosyncrasies, RCA and others predict big things for Elvis Presley. It may be that he is just a flash in the juke-box, but veteran show business people doubt it. They think he has the stuff of which lasting fame is made.

Presley himself is deadly serious about his career. He has taken a Paramount screen test—the verdict is that he could be another Marlon Brando. He works hard, trying to improve his diction. He takes longer to record than almost any other singer —three hours went into the making of just one side of his last record. So it would seem that Elvis Presley is here to stay. If he can last long enough, that is.

Plenty Ways to Preserve Peaches

The Early Rose peach, which is harvested about the middle of June is a cling seed peach which is especially good, not only for canning but also for preserving as spiced or pickled peaches. Below is an Extension recipe that furnishes a good table product.

Spiced or Pickled Peaches

1 gallon peaches, 3 pounds sugar, 1 quart vinegar, 4 sticks cinnamon, 1 tablespoon whole cloves

Mix sugar, vinegar and water to make a syrup. Tie the spices in a cheesecloth bag, and place in the pickling syrup. Boil the pickling syrup for 5 minutes before the peaches are added.

Select firm, ripe peaches. Clingstone peaches are generally preferred. Peel and leave whole. Drop the peaches into the hot pickling syrup. Cook slowly until the fruit is clear and tender, then remove from the fire. Leave the peaches in the syrup overnight to plump up.

The next day, drain the syrup from the peaches, and pack them into sterilized jars. Heat the syrup to boiling, strain, and pour over the peaches. Adjust the lids, place in the water bath, and process pints 15 minutes and quarts 20 minutes at simmering temperature.

Peach juice is another method of preserving this local fruit that furnishes variety in the menu. Juice can be served plain or with other juices in a punch.

Peach Juice
10 pounds peaches, crushed, 6½ cups of water, 1 cup sugar to each gallon of strained juice.

Use ripe peaches. Wash but do not peel or seed. Crush the peaches. To each 10 pounds of crushed fruit, add 6½ cups of water. Boil 20 minutes, then strain and measure. For each gallon of strained juice, add one cup of sugar. Heat just to boiling and then pour into hot, sterilized jars. Adjust lids and process 30 minutes at simmering temperature in a hot-water bath. Whether you're using Early Rose, Fair's Beauty or Elberta peaches, your family will clamor for peach crunch. Serve this with or without whipped cream. Use the recipe below.

Mix together with a pastry cutter or your fingers, sifted flour, sugar, and cold butter in approximately equal portions (¼ cup of each should serve 4 to 6). Add 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg or mace, allspice, and cloves, if desired. This mixture should be evenly, not gummy. It can be mixed in advance and stored in the refrigerator. Add a pinch of salt.

Sprinkle this mixture generously over the bottom of a deep pie or baking dish, preferably oven glass. Add to this canned or fresh peaches, cut as for pie or in quarters. Add another slight sprinkling of the flour mixture and about 1/4 cup juice from the peaches. Juice of a lemon adds zest.

Add another layer of peaches. Sprinkle the flour mixture over the top to form a crust. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) 15 minutes or longer, until brown.

For further information on preserving peaches contact Mrs. Lorraine B. Wyllie, home demonstration agent.

TROUBLE, TROUBLE

DAVENPORT, Iowa, — (UP) — Troubles multiplied yesterday for Rock Island Line Engineer E. Snyder. The first of a series of mishaps occurred near Durant, when Snyder's train developed a hotbox.

He stopped the freight train to unhook the damaged car, but forgot about the 25 cars behind it. Snyder didn't note his loss until he got to Davenport, then had to back up all the way.

Back at the forgotten boxcars, a Des Moines passenger train was delayed two hours until Snyder showed up to collect his property.

Oldest of the mints of the United States was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in 1792.

Allen Is Not Seeking to Halt Sullivan

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — For almost a year now people in television have been talking about a drama entitled "The Man Who Knocked Off Ed Sullivan" which Paddy Chayefsky is supposed to be writing.

The exact plot of the drama is touted about freely. But since it can be reliably reported that Chayefsky has not written a line of the drama, it's rather difficult to see how so many people can know what it's about.

At any rate, the title expresses the dream wish — fulfillment of many executives of NBC who long have been bothered and bewildered by the phenomenally long and consistently popular appeal of Ed Sullivan over on the opposition CBS-TV. Twice in the past season Sullivan has knocked off NBC-TV shows; or, to be more exact, he simply has captured their audiences so thoroughly that the shows folded.

On Sunday, June 24, NBC is sending in a new show opposite Sullivan. It is shepherded by Steven Allen, a quiet, articulate and very amusing guy who long has been delighting millions in the hours around midnight with his Tonight show.

Any David and Goliath talk in connection with the estimable Mr. Sullivan makes Allen squirm slightly. He is not a reluctant soldier, but he is a serious artist in the craft of comedy and entertainment. His thoughts run along the lines of "Let's put on the best possible show and forget about Sullivan."

"At first, we don't want to start out with anything too revolutionary," he said recently. "Naturally we're seeking popular entertainers. But I'd hate to see this develop into a boxing battle with Ed Sullivan. A boxing battle is as self-defeating as an arms race for a price war."
